ABOUT

ABOUT: U.S. Media Literacy Week

Inspired by Canada's Media Literacy Week, the annual U.S. Media Literacy Week is hosted by the National Association for Media Literacy Education (NAMLE). The mission is to highlight the power of media literacy education and its essential role in education all across the country. U.S. Media Literacy Week calls attention to media literacy education by bringing together hundreds of partners for events and activities around the country.

THEME

The theme for U.S. Media Literacy Week celebrates one of the five components of media literacy's definition each day of Media Literacy Week: Access, Analyze, Evaluate, Create, and Act. Check out each link for a full breakdown of each component and additional resources, lessons, and activities.

PARTICIPATION – GET INVOLVED!

Whether you are a concerned citizen, a parent, an educator, an organization, or anyone else, you can get involved with Media Literacy Week by helping spread the word about media literacy, teaching a lesson, planning a media literacy event, or creating a resource to be used by others throughout the week. It's up to you to decide what you want to participate! Just don't forget to register as a Media Literacy Week:

Creator — Anyone who creates media literacy content or resources.

Educator — Anyone teaching media literacy in any setting.

Organizer — Anyone who organizes an event. Register your event here!

Supporter — Anyone interesting in sharing information about media literacy.
